BEST OF DUBROVNIK TOUR

Duration: up to 4 hours

---

This tour aims to show you just that, the very best of the city. The tour lasts for about four hours and it begins with transfer to Srdj mountain. This is a place from which you can see the entire city, along with its two-kilometer-long walls and, believe us, it is breathtaking. Srdj is a place of historical importance since, during wartime, that is where the military front was located. It also hosts the Homeland War Museum. After Srdj, we will begin our descent into the heart of the Old Town where you will see all the most important locations. After that, we will climb the famous walls that encompass the Old Town.

THE PERFECT GETAWAY – HISTORY LOKRUM & OLD TOWN

Duration: up to 3 hours

---

At first glance, Dubrovnik seems like a small town that can be explored on foot in practically half a day. However, the truth is that old Ragusa has many more secrets just waiting for you to reveal them. Once you decide to take a closer look to what was actually going on in the Middle Ages, and all the way up to recent history, it is very important to set your own pace and to find a guide who will be your compass as you explore the shiny limestone streets. Learning about medieval Dubrovnik's history is like putting puzzle pieces together to create a complete picture for yourself. It is all about the stories, legends, curiosities and the city's visionary government that have made us to be the people we are today. Explore the Island of Lokrum, it's secret forest and relax on the beach with the view of Dubrovnik

SUNSET CITY WALLS

Duration: up to 2 hours

Magnificent city walls that surround our old town are a statement of wealth and safety. For centuries, they were a protection from perils, pirates, foreign conquerors. Today, they are a reminder of some distant medieval times. Our walls surround the town for almost 2 km in length and once you are on them, the view is simply breathtaking. Terracotta roofs and narrow streets are all visible from above, clear vista over the Adriatic Sea reveals just about any boat on the horizon. Since 1979, Dubrovnik is under UNESCO protection. If you were wondering, once you're in Dubrovnik, what you should see first once there, it is definitely the city walls, our most recognized landmark, inspiration to many artists, the center of all photographs taken in Dubrovnik

SECRET AND LEGENDS MLINI, CAVTAT AND DUBROVNIK

Duration: up to 1.5 -2 hours

Discover the rich tapestry of history, art, and legend on a tour that combines three enchanting locations near Dubrovnik—Cavtat, Mlini, and the forgotten Roman colony of Epidaurum. In Cavtat, once home to two of Croatia’s greatest artists—a prolific painter and a visionary sculptor—you’ll explore how this picturesque town became a cultural landmark. Step further back in time to ancient Epidaurum, learning about its Roman roots, dramatic demise, and the shipwrecks that dot its coast. Then, wander through the charming village of Mlini, filled with lush greenery and historical gems, including the mysterious Villa Bettera, where ghost stories and scientific minds once met. Hear tales of the devastating 1667 earthquake, Dubrovnik’s innovative response to plague outbreaks, and visit the rarely opened 15th-century Church of St. Roch—linked to a visiting saint. This unique journey blends natural beauty with captivating stories that bring the region’s rich past to life.
